

Sarah Horowitz, Diane Jacobs, Angela Katona-Batchelor and Barbara Tetenbaum

The Organic Architecture of Books

Four Portland area artists explore the book format including its narrative and sculptural potential. Sarah Horowitz, Diane Jacobs, Angela Katona-Batchelor and Barbara Tetenbaum each approach the book medium through specific conceptual frameworks, which begin both in nature and within the artificial constructs of the book itself.

Return Service Requested

November 10 - December 16

Please join us for an artist's talk at 1 PM in CT 212 followed by a reception in the gallery
Thursday, November 10, 1 PM - 4 PM

Directions:

From 1-5 South: Exit at Capitol Highway. Turn right onto Capitol Highway (Capitol becomes 49th Ave.) Follow signs to PCC
From 1-5 North: Exit at Barbur Blvd. Follow Barbur to Huber, turn right. Turn right again at Capitol Highway (Capitol becomes 49th Ave.) Follow signs to PCC.

Verso: Angela Katona-Batchelor "English Ivy - hedera helix" 2011, approx. 4"x3"x48" (Photo, Isaac Batchelor)